

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A thin-film magnetic head is formed on a support and is provided with a reproducing head part, a recording head part, and a heater for generating heat upon energization. A medium-opposing surface S of the magnetic head is polished while energizing the heater or recording head part.